

A presentation by

Dr Michelle M.Mielke, Ph.D.

Lipidomics in Alzheimer's Disease

Dr Michelle M. Mielke, Ph.D., is the Professor of Epidemiology at the Department of Health Sciences Research and Professor of Neurology at the Mayo Clinic College of Medicine. Her primary focus of research is the identification of biomarkers for the diagnosis, prediction and/or progression of Alzheimer's disease, as well as other neurodegenerative and neuropsychiatric conditions.

Date: Friday, 18 November 2016

Time: 3pm - 4pm (doors open at 2.30pm)

Venue: Lecture Theatre LG03

Wallace Wurth Building (C27)

University of New South Wales

This is an open lecture. All welcome.